INDEX TO VOLUME 23

AUTHOR INDEX

ABU-GHANNAM, NISSREEN, an assessment of the safety of cooling large cooked meats in the catering sector, 728

ALBRECHT, JULIE A., survey of mayonnaise-based salads for microbial safety and quality, 387

AL-DAGAL, MOSSFER M., food safety knowledge and behavior of sanitarians of Riyadh municipality (Saudi Arabia), 142

ALLEN, V. M., potential for spread of some bacterial and protozoan pathogens via abattoir wastes applied on agricultural land, 315

BATES, MARC P., eleven-year trends of microbiological quality in bulk tank milk, 393

BELK, K. E., comparison of intervention technologies for reducing Escherichia coli O157:H7 on beef cuts and trimmings, 24

BENDER BRANDT, MARY, prevalence of food safety, quality, and other consumer statements on labels of processed, packaged foods, 870

BLEDSOE, GLEYN E., effective food security plans for production agriculture and food processing, 130

BOLAND, MICHAEL A., acceptability of irradiated food to restaurant managers, 1022

BORNEMEIER, VANESSA L., survey of mayonnaise-based salads for microbial safety and quality, 387

BRANDT, MARY BENDER, prevalence of food safety, quality, and other consumer statements on labels of processed, packaged foods, 870

BROWN, ANNA-MARIE, prevalence of food safety, quality, and other consumer statements on labels of processed, packaged foods, 870

BROWNING, L. M., providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 1, 14; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 2, 114; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 3, 234

BUNCIC, S., potential for spread of some bacterial and protozoan pathogens via abattoir wastes applied on agricultural land, 315

CASON, KATHERINE, food safety knowledge and practices of low income adults in Pennsylvania, 326

CHARLÓN, V., application of ATP-bioluminescence technique for assessing cleanliness of milking equipment, bulk tank and milk transport tankers, 308

CHARNOCK, COLIN, the antibacterial efficacy of Norwegian hand dishwashing detergents, 790

CLARK, STEPHANIE, eleven-year trends of microbiological quality in bulk tank milk, 393

COSTELLO, MICHAEL, eleven-year trends of microbiological quality in bulk tank milk, 393

COWDEN, J. M., providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 1, 14; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 2, 114; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 3, 234

CUATRIN, A., application of ATP-bioluminescence technique for assessing cleanliness of milking equipment, bulk tank and milk transport tankers, 308

DA COSTA, L. H., application of ATP-bioluminescence technique for assessing cleanliness of milking equipment, bulk tank and milk transport tankers, 308

DUFFY, SIOBAIN S., Monte Carlo simulation of the shelf life of pasteurized milk as affected by temperature and initial concentration of spoilage organisms, 1014

EHLERS, JULIE, removal of Listeria monocytogenes and poultry soil-containing biofilms using chemical cleaning and sanitizing agents under static conditions, 654

ENDRES, JEANNETTE B., occurrence of Campylobacter and Salmonella in broiler chickens raised in different production systems and fed organic and traditional feed, 252

ETCHEVERRY, F., application of ATP-bioluminescence technique for assessing cleanliness of milking equipment, bulk tank and milk transport tankers, 308

FEIRTAG, JOELLEN M., a novel intervention for the reduction of bacteria on beef carcasses, 558

FOX, JOHN A., acceptability of irradiated food to restaurant managers, 1022

FRAMPTON, ELON W., Listeria monocytogenes incidence and distribution on a selective/differential plating medium in Listeria-positive environmental samples from ready-to-eat food facilities, 554

FRANK, JOSEPH F., removal of Listeria monocytogenes and poultry soil-containing biofilms using chemical cleaning and sanitizing agents under static conditions, 654

FRIES, R., hygienic status of meals in airline catering, 35

GALLAND, JOHN C., a survey of dairy producer practices and attitudes pertaining to dairy market beef food safety, 466

GILL, C. O., decontamination of cleaned personal equipment used during beef carcass processing, 474

GRISWOLD, KEN, occurrence of Campylobacter and Salmonella in broiler chickens raised in different production systems and fed organic and traditional feed, 252

HÅKANSON, HÅKAN, hygiene in warewashers utilizing blasting granules that foodservice establishments use, 797

HYATT, DOREENE R., a survey of dairy producer practices and attitudes pertaining to dairy market beef food safety, 466

INGHAM, STEVEN C., comparative survival of Staphylococcus epidermidis, Listeria monocytogenes, and Staphylococcus aureus on hot-smoked fish, 735

JUNE, GERALDINE, prevalence of food safety, quality, and other consumer statements on labels of processed, packaged foods, 870

KANG, DONG-HYUN, eleven-year trends of microbiological quality in bulk tank milk, 393

KASSAB, CATHY, food safety knowledge and practices of low income adults in Pennsylvania, 326

LAU, MARIA M., comparative survival of Staphylococcus epidermidis, Listeria monocytogenes, and Staphylococcus aureus on hot-smoked fish, 735

LEWIS, VAUGHN, Listeria monocytogenes incidence and distribution on a selective/differential plating medium in Listeria-positive environmental samples from ready-to-eat food facilities, 554

LIEDTKE, MEGAN, Listeria monocytogenes incidence and distribution on a selective/differential plating medium in Listeria-positive environmental samples from ready-to-eat food facilities, 554

LINDVALL, INGER, hygiene in warewashers utilizing blasting granules that foodservice establishments use, 797

LIONBERG, WILLIAM, Listeria monocytogenes incidence and distribution on a selective/differential plating medium in Listeria-positive environmental samples from ready-to-eat food facilities, 554

LONG, SANDRA, thoughts on today's food safety… evaluation of HACCP program in Plano, Texas resulted in new approach to guidelines and inspections, 100

LONGSTRETH, MOLLY, media coverage of food irradiation, 243

LUEDECKE, LLOYD O., eleven-year trends of microbiological quality in bulk tank milk, 393

LUES, RYK J. F., the microbiological composition and related hygiene practices associated with a South African primary school feeding program, 382

LUND, MELINDA, occurrence of Campylobacter and Salmonella in broiler chickens raised in different production systems and fed organic and traditional feed, 252

LV, NAN, food safety knowledge and practices of low income adults in Pennsylvania, 326

MANYATSA, JUGEN M., the microbiological composition and related hygiene practices associated with a South African primary school feeding program, 382

MARSHALL, ROBERT T., acids, pathogens, foods and us, 882

MASSANET-NICOLAU, J., potential for spread of some bacterial and protozoan pathogens via abattoir wastes applied on agricultural land, 315

MCGINNIS, J. C., decontamination of cleaned personal equipment used during beef carcass processing, 474

MCENTIRE, JENNIFER, Monte Carlo simulation of the shelf life of pasteurized milk as affected by temperature and initial concentration of spoilage organisms, 1014

MILLER, JEFFERSON D., media coverage of food irradiation, 243

MILLIKEN, GEORGE A., a survey of dairy producer practices and attitudes pertaining to dairy market beef food safety, 466

MOALUSI, BOITUMELO M., the microbiological composition and related hygiene practices associated with a South African primary school feeding program, 382

MONTVILLE, REBECCA, Monte Carlo simulation of the shelf life of pasteurized milk as affected by temperature and initial concentration of spoilage organisms, 1014

MORRIS, G. P., providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 1, 14; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 2, 114; providing an adequate supply of microbiologically safe and palatable food and drinking water: contribution of a European vertically integrated approach to educating professionals and consumers – part 3, 234
